Here is a small round baler that automatically transfers bale to a wrapper, allowing baling and wrapping to be done simultaneously. This doubles the output of separate operations.

This system allows you to create weather proof bales to make haylage when complete curing is not possible. Completed bales can also be passed through and ejected without wrapping when you choose to do so.

Only 20 HP tractor is needed to run this system. Price is $22,000 delivered at your closest port.

A larger version is also available known as the "Pony Combi" that makes bales nearly twice the diameter and length of the R500 Combi. It more than triples the output of the smaller unit. It requires 55 HP and cost's $40,000 at your closest port.
